Energy Performance Certificate

Dwelling type: Semi-detached house

Date of assessment: 06 January 2016

Date of certificate: 07 January 2016

Reference number: [REDACTED]

Type of assessment: RdSAP, existing dwelling

Total floor area: 78 m²

Use this document to:

- Compare current ratings of properties to see which properties are more energy efficient
- Find out how you can save energy and money by installing improvement measures

Estimated energy costs of dwelling for 3 years:	£ 3,261
Over 3 years you could save	£ 1,440

Estimated energy costs of this home

	Current costs	Potential costs	Potential future savings
Lighting	£ 312 over 3 years	£ 156 over 3 years
Heating	£ 2,550 over 3 years	£ 1,413 over 3 years
Hot Water	£ 399 over 3 years	£ 252 over 3 years
Totals	£ 3,261	£ 1,821

These figures show how much the average household would spend in this property for heating, lighting and hot water and is not based on energy used by individual households. This excludes energy use for running appliances like TVs, computers and cookers, and electricity generated by microgeneration.

Energy Efficiency Rating

Very energy efficient • lower running costs

Current: 54
Potential: 84

The graph shows the current energy efficiency of your home.
The higher the rating the lower your fuel bills are likely to be.
The potential rating shows the effect of undertaking the recommendations on page 3.
The average energy efficiency rating for a dwelling in England and Wales is band D (rating 60).
The EPC rating shown here is based on standard assumptions about occupancy and energy use and may not reflect how energy is consumed by individual occupants.

Top actions you can take to save money and make your home more efficient

Terms and Conditions

This report is intended to provide an independent and unbiased view of the condition of the Property and contents on the date of the report. The Inventory Clerk conducting this report is not an expert in furniture, fabrics, building materials or finishes and cannot provide an expert opinion on the manufacture or authenticity of any finish or nature of materials whether real, artificial or synthetic. All descriptive terms are to be interpreted as those of a non-expert. Neither is the Inventory Clerk an electrical, survey or structural engineer and cannot vouch for the safety or otherwise of any aspect of the Property, contents (electrical and/or mechanical). If an electrical item is described as 'working' it means that electrical power is available to it as indicated by a power light and is not a statement of its functionality.

Where fire and safety labels have been noted on a description it does not mean that the item necessarily complies with the prevailing fire and safety regulations. The presence of a gas safety record indicated in the Report does not mean that it is genuine or meets the requirements of gas safety regulations. Fire and gas safety regulations are the responsibility of the landlord or their representative.

Items of heavy furniture, beds, mattresses or appliances or mattresses in made beds may not have been moved and may have been hiding damage that is not visible. Cupboards above head height may not have been inspected. Contents of kitchens e.g. knives, forks, pans and cleaning products may not have been itemised. Items left in garages or outbuildings may not have been itemised. Boxed items and packaging may not have been opened. Collections of books, DVDs and CDs may not have been itemised.

Smoke and carbon monoxide alarms that are not accessible easily or do not have power or a test button may not have been tested.

This report is prepared to the instructing party's instructions and is intended to be used in the context of residential letting to serve as a statement of condition and content on the day of the report.

General Information for Tenants

To help prevent damage by moisture or mould, the property must be kept adequately heated and ventilated.

Please pay particular attention to the contents of this report, particularly regarding the cleanliness of the property, its contents and the condition of the kitchen appliances.

Please make sure that all items are returned to the positions within the property that they occupied at the commencement of the tenancy. Failure to do so may lead to the tenant incurring costs or deductions from the security deposit, and the items may be reported as missing on the check-out report.
